ABSTRACT

The first in a series of annual cumulations, this 1980 dictionary catalog provides a single alphabetical listing of monographs published by New York State and cataloged by the state library during the year. Produced from OCLC machine readable records, the catalog lists citations in traditional dictionary catalog order: i.e., authors, titles, series, subject, and secondary entries interfiled in one alphabet. Full bibliographic information appears only under the main entry, which also includes OCLC numbers and NYSL call numbers, time accession numbers, and copy location. (RAA)

Reproductions supplied by EDRS are the best that can be made from the original document.

Foreword

The 1979 annual cumulation of the Dictionary Catalog of Official Publications of the State of New York marks the first in a series of annual cumulations. The schedule for publication of the Dictionary Catalog has been established as quarterly, annual and quinquennial.

This issue cumulates cataloging entries for New York State monographic documents cataloged at the New York State Library between January 1, 1979 and December 28, 1979. Publication copy is produced from machine readable records in the OCLC, Inc. computerized data base.

The Checklist of Official Publications of the State of New York, useful as a current bibliography and acquisitions tool, will continue to be published monthly.

Scope of the Dictionary Catalog

The Dictionary Catalog contains all monographic titles cataloged at the State Library during the stated period. The Dictionary Catalog omits periodicals, serials, annuals, and ephemera.

A list of current New York State periodical titles received at the State Library, published annually in the February issue of the Checklist, is appended to this issue of the Dictionary Catalog.

Microform Edition of New York State Documents

The State Library cooperates with Research Publications in the production of a microform edition of all New York State documents listed on the Checklist. Documents are filmed monthly as they appear on the Checklist. The films are available from Research Publications, Inc., 12 Lunar Drive, Woodbridge, Connecticut 06525.

Access to the titles on the film is from the Checklist citation. Beginning in March 1977, the Library began using a newly devised New York State document classification scheme consisting of an alpha/numeric code for the issuing agency, an alphabetic code for the title, and a time accession number. The titles are arranged on the film by the time accession number.

Please note: The Checklist carries titles such as ephemera and serials which will appear on the films, but which do not appear in the Dictionary Catalog. Conversely, there are titles in the Dictionary Catalog, which appear because they are New York State-related or because they have been recataloged, which were not checklisted and which will not be on the films. The films also exclude copyrighted material, but a notation to that effect appears on the film in the proper location.

The microform edition provides other libraries with the opportunity to have the same comprehensive coverage of official publications as the New York State Library.

USING THE DICTIONARY CATALOG

Citations are listed in traditional dictionary catalog order; that is, the listing contains authors, titles, series, subject and secondary entries interfiled in one alphabet. Subject entries appear in upper case letters.

Entries in this catalog are arranged according to certain basic filing rules:

1.) Filing order is word for word; e.g., New York files ahead of Newark.

2.) Initial articles of title, and all punctuation, are ignored in the filing order.

    (There are descrepancies with some titles. Some are filed under initial articles because they are added titles in a language different than the original work. Example: A television course in beginning college Spanish.)

3.) Names beginning with "M" or "Mc" are arranged as if written "Mac."

Full bibliographic information appears only under the main entry. Added entries do include call number and OCLC number.

INDIANS. Here are entered works on the aboriginal peoples of the Western Hemisphere, including Eskimos. For convenience, the Western hemisphere has been divided into five basic geographical regions: North America, Mexico, Central America, West Indies and South America. Works pertaining to Indian groups located within the confines of one of these regions are entered under Indians of the pertinent region, e.g. Indians of North America, Indians of Mexico. Names of Indian linguistic families are distinguished as such (and from the names of single languages or Tribes) by the termination an or ian.
